

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It was an honor and privilege to serve as NCLA President for 2017. Thank you for your support, guidance and most of all, patience.

Our Divisions and Committees had an exciting and productive year, offering many professional development programs and social events. Their hard work and dedication make NCLA a vibrant and valuable organization, and we are grateful for their contributions.

This year, thanks to the generous support of the Nassau Library System, NCLA sent two buses to Albany for Library Advocacy Day. Advocacy efforts continued in September, as the Nassau Library System hosted the 32nd Annual Nassau County Legislative Breakfast, co-sponsored by NCLA and LILRC.

The NCLA Archival Project continued, under the direction of Jim Vorbach from St. John's University and Stu Schaeffer from the Farmingdale Public Library.

Documents relating to important social and political issues may be viewed on the NCLA website under "Archives."

The Long Island Library Conference was successful and profitable, thanks to the efforts of committee members, led by Chair Elaine Cummings-Young. NCLA Divisions and Committees sponsored many high quality and informative programs, offered raffle prizes to raise money and provided giveaways to help market our organization.

The Annual Dinner and Installation of Officers was held on November 30, 2017, at the Coral House in Baldwin. We welcomed the 2018 officers, congratulated Amanda Abbatiello as the Andrew Ippolito Scholarship Award winner and Lisa Errico (Nassau Community College), Lauren Lochner (Glen Cove Public Library), Jessica Carruba (Levittown Public Library), and Kaysha Watson-Phillips (Freeport Memorial Library) as the Education Grant Winners.

Herb Biblo was recognized for his many years of service to NCLA and the library community as he embarks upon a well-deserved retirement from the Long Island Library Resources Council.

Thank you to a wonderful Executive Board: Immediate Past President Trina Reed, Treasurer Ed Goldberg, Secretary Emily Trezza and your 2018 President Laura Giunta and Directors Peter Cirona, Scott Steinke, Barbara Mickowski, Dalal Fatoush, Michelle Young, Barbara Grace and Jeanne Lettieri for their participation and help this year.

Congratulations to Laura and all incoming Board Members, Division Presidents and Committee Chairs. I look forward to continuing to work with you and wish you all success and good health in 2018!

Nancy Evans
2017 NCLA President

NCLA Newsletter Update

Due to budget concerns, the NCLA Executive Board has decided to transition to an online NCLA Newsletter starting in 2018. This is your final chance to indicate that you are interested in receiving a print edition of the NCLA Newsletter.

Please be sure to include your correct mailing address. It would save postage costs if your newsletter can be delivered via the NLS or SCLA delivery systems, so please make this your mailing address if possible.

Starting in 2018, the NCLA Newsletter will be published online at the NCLA webpage.

Newsletter publication announcements will be posted on the NCLA listserv. To receive notification of a new issue, please be sure that you have subscribed to the NCLA e-mail discussion group - <http://groups.google.com/a/nassaulibrary.org/group/ncla>

Library Advocacy Day

Wednesday, March 1, 2017

Library staff, trustees, friends, and supporters filled the steps and the “Well” in the Legislative Office Building in Albany for the NYLA Rally.

Assemblywoman Michaelle C. Solages (22 AD) leads the call for increased library funding at the Rally.

Senator Todd Kaminsky (9 SD) greets library supporters at his office.

Senator John E. Brooks (8 SD) receives stacks of letters from library supporters.

Assemblyman Edward P. Ra (19 AD) shows support for libraries at the Rally.

Senator Kemp Hannon (6 SD) meets with various Nassau County library directors, staff, and friends.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR THE NCLA POP CULTURE COMMITTEE

For the members of the NCLA Pop Culture Committee, trying to look back on all the events of 2017 makes it feel as if the days truly passed at warp speed! In May, it hosted Sci-Fi author Wayne Gladstone as its speaker for the Long Island Library Conference, though the undeniable star of the show was its raffle prize – a custom light saber in honor of the date of the conference which fell on May 4th, or “Star Wars Day” as fans have affectionately dubbed it.

The NCLA Pop Culture Committee sells raffle tickets for a Star Wars lightsaber at the Long Island Library Conference.

The NCLA Pop Culture Committee was out in full force at this year's New York Comic Con, held October 5-8, 2017, in New York City. NCLA had record three panel submissions accepted for this year's convention. Two panels were part of ALA's official Professional Day programming (for librarians and educators), and, for the first time ever, one panel was accepted for public programming.

All Professional Day panels took place at the main branch of the New York Public Library on the first day of NYCC. The first NCLA panel presented was "Will Eisner Grants for Libraries 101." As a former grant winner, NCLA member Valerie Acklin joined Will Eisner Foundation representative John Shableski and grant juror TJ Lamanna to discuss the ALA annual graphic novel grants and provide tips for librarians looking to apply.

Acklin also took part in the panel "Graphic Sex: Comics, New Media, and the Queering of Sex Education," which introduced librarians to new, graphic-based sex education materials, discussed their importance, and covered how to feature them in library collections.

On Friday at the Javits Center, NCLA members Jessikah Chautin and Valerie Acklin took part in the "sold-out" panel, "Anime for Feminists," which looked at popular anime series through a feminist lens. Finally, many committee members volunteered to work numerous shifts at the American Library Association booth, providing the public with graphic novel/comic reader's advisory services, helped promote library services and events, and distributed promotional materials provided by ALA.

The NCLA Pop Culture Committee once again raffled off a light saber for the New York Library Association Conference! It closed out the show with the Pop Culture After Party, which included photo-ops with costumed Star Wars characters and a presentation about fan films given by pop-culture expert Clive Young. While the festivities rolled on, guests were treated to a delicious lunch and a “make your own churro station” for dessert! The afternoon ended with Disney Karaoke.

Also, in November, Committee members spoke at the Nassau BOCES School Library Systems Regional Fall Institute about graphic novel collection development for children and teens.

In December, the Pop Culture Committee hosted an NCLA event at the Soundview Cinemas in Port Washington to watch “Star Wars: The Last Jedi.” Attendees came together with friends and families to see the film and to enjoy a meet and greet with Jedi from the Empire Light Saber Guild, as well as everyone's favorite brooding baddie, Kylo Ren.

Looking ahead to 2018, the NCLA Pop Culture Committee is pleased to announce the return of the Long Island Libraries and Pop Culture Conference, with keynote speaker Dave Roman. The conference will be held on the auspicious date of Friday, April 13, 2018, and the committee hopes to see everyone there. May the force be with you.!

We are thrilled to announce that journalist, author and presenter of the 2017 TED Talk titled “There’s More to Life Than Being Happy,” Emily Esfahani Smith, will be the keynote speaker for the 2018 conference.

In her recent book “THE POWER OF MEANING: Finding Fulfillment in a World Obsessed With Happiness,” she draws on psychology, philosophy and literature to write about the human experience—why we are the way we are and how we can find grace and meaning in a world that is full of suffering.

Emily is an instructor in positive psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, as well as an editor at Stanford University’s Hoover

Institution, where she manages the Ben Franklin Circles project, a collaboration with the 92nd Street Y and Citizen University to build meaning in local communities.

Born in Zurich, Switzerland, Emily grew up in Montreal, Canada. She graduated from Dartmouth College and earned a masters of applied positive psychology from the University of Pennsylvania. She lives with her husband in Washington DC.

SUPPORT STAFF DIVISION YEAR-IN-REVIEW

Support Staff Division members lobby for libraries on 2017 Library Advocacy Day.

2017 was a very busy and productive year for the NCLA Support Staff Division. We started the year out in January with the completion of our Windows 10 series of workshops at the East Meadow Public Library.

On March 1, 2017, members of the Support Staff and many fellow colleagues went to Albany to advocate for Library Funding. It is always a big turnout, reminding our government officials how important continued funding is for our libraries.

Then we moved forward to our "Annual Open House" held on March 30, 2017, and it was an Interactive Trivia Game Night hosted at the East Meadow Public Library.

Everyone had a lot of laughs, good food, a chance to win a raffle prize and friendly competition.

In the spring, we hosted "Introduction to Google Apps" at The Merrick Library. The Long Island Library Conference was next. We had a great raffle prize donated by Coach and our Handbag raised funds to give back to NCLA.

In June, we had a relaxing night at "Fun Time Pottery" in Franklin Square. It was nice to mingle, eat, be creative and enjoy being with friends.

Before we knew it, fall was upon us, and we held our annual Bus Trip. We went back to Westchester Broadway Theatre and saw "Annie Get Your Gun." We enjoyed a delicious lunch and a great show.

We wrapped up the year with our "Roundtable Discussion" in November at Nassau Library System. We had panel members from all different positions throughout libraries, and we thank them all for their input making this a very informative and successful program. The program finished up with staff members at NLS leading a tour around the building, showing the behind the scenes work of how everything gets done.

As you can see, we had a very busy year, and I would like to say a special "Thank You" to the Support Staff Executive Board Members for all of their hard work, without them these programs couldn't have happened.

We wish our incoming Executive Board congratulations and good luck for 2018.

As always, we welcome any suggestions for programming. We would love for new people to join us at our upcoming meetings, the dates will be posted on the NCLA Calendar.

Please remember to join the NCLA Support Staff Division in 2018.

Nassau's 32nd Annual Legislative Breakfast

Friday, September 29, 2017
Nassau Library System, Uniondale, NY

NLS Director Jackie Thresher thanks legislators for their past support and urges them to continue to support library funding in 2018.

Senator Carl Marcellino (5 SD) reminds librarians to keep the lines of communication open so legislators know what is going on in libraries and how their communities are served.

PR/Programming Division Ends Year with a Bang

(L to R): Panelists Jeremy Fraser and Rory Pinsky of Foresters Financial; Immacula Oligario, Nassau County Commission on Human Rights; PR/Programming Division President Roseanne Dorfman; Karen Tripmacher, NYU Winthrop; Moriah Adamo, Nassau County Bar Association; Michael DeGeorges, American Kidney Fund; and Erik Larson, Global Harmony House.

I want to thank the many members who joined us for the PR/Programming Division Annual Breakfast/Program on Tuesday, December 12, 2017, at the Nassau Library System.

Serving Our Communities Through Free Programming was a huge success! Not only did we enjoy a delicious hot breakfast and get to network with our colleagues but our program panelists, representatives from financial, legal, medical, spiritual and Nassau County agencies, were very gracious and provided relevant information and resources for many successful programs in our libraries, especially on a budget!

It's good to end the year on a high note which began with another successful Performers Showcase!

Thanks for a great year and join us again in 2018,

Roseanne Dorfman
PR Programming
Division President

Join your friends and colleagues on a bus trip to Albany to meet with your state legislators

Advocacy Day - Wednesday, February 28, 2018

It's time for NCLA's annual Advocacy bus trip to Albany! We need as many library advocates as possible to communicate the importance of libraries in New York State to our legislators.

Travel to Albany and spend a memorable day with your friends and colleagues. You'll be surrounded with camaraderie, lively conversation, and a sense of achievement.

The trip begins on a luxury motor coach. Bring a beverage of your choice and we'll provide bagels with all the trimmings. During the trip you will be given briefing packets that will include the schedule of assigned times to meet with legislators and additional backup information regarding the legislative issues important to our Long Island libraries. If you'd like to be even more informed, you can attend an Info & Prep session being offered by the Nassau Library System (see below).

We'll visit with legislators at appointed times and meet at "the well" in the Legislative Office Building (LOB) to make some noise at the main event of the day - the big rally!

Your job as an advocate is done! Sit back and relax on the trip home! Sandwiches, beverages, and dessert will be served.

THIS TRIP IS 100% FREE!

Why should I participate in Advocacy Day?

Library supporters from across the state will be heading to Albany to speak with legislators about the importance of their libraries and how they are a crucial part of New York's education system.

Our communities need people like you (library staff, trustees, volunteers, users, and Library Friends groups) in Albany on Advocacy Day to help our legislators understand that libraries are a funding priority.

Your personal experiences are powerful. Share your stories about how the library impacts the lives of its community members and why your library needs stable funding.

Reserve your seat on the bus for Advocacy Day in Albany Wednesday, February 28, 2018 online at:

<http://bit.ly/AdvocacyDay2018> (Registration Deadline is Thursday, February 15, 2018)

ALL INFORMATION IS REQUIRED. YOU WILL BE NOTIFIED IF THE BUS IS FILLED.
A confirmation email will be sent out before the trip to the email listed when registering.

The Bus will leave the NLS parking lot promptly at 6:15am on Wednesday, February 28, 2018.
Please be in the parking lot and ready to leave by 6:00am.

For more information contact Cathi Nashak at: CNashak@uniondalelibrary.org

You can make a difference. Your presence in Albany matters.

Info & Prep sessions are being offered at the Nassau Library System for those who plan to participate in Library Advocacy Day on February 28 as well as anyone who wants to be a more effective advocate for their library in general.

Each of the 2 sessions will cover: The current status of state aid to library systems and their member libraries, NYLA's priorities for state funding, how Advocacy Day works, and how to make an effective case for state aid with legislators

Tuesday, February 13 3:00-4:30pm or Monday, February 26 9:30-11:00am

Register for either Prep session online at: <http://bit.ly/2018advocacyprep>

CHILDREN'S SERVICES DIVISION YEAR IN REVIEW

I was extremely honored to serve at the 2017 Children's Services Division President. We had a great year and that is in part due to the 199 members in our division as well as the amazing Board that I was given the privilege to work with.

I want to extend my appreciation to the 2017 Executive Board for their hard work and dedication to the Children's Services Division: Sarah Aiosa, Jacqueline Lopez, Jaclyn Kunz, Bianca Rivera, Ilene Madden, Rosemarie Birofka, Michelle Minervini, Meghan Ceglie, Emily Trezza, and Jennifer Firth.

This year was filled with many amazing programs. On April 24, 2017, we held a very successful program entitled "Coding for Kids." Forty-two people attended the program. There were five presenters who presented on many topics such as how to host a coding program for kids. Also, several of the presenters brought items with them such as Robots, Sphero Balls, and Ozobots that all participants were allowed to play with at the end of the program.

Coding for Kids

At the 2017 Long Island Library Conference, our speaker was Tim Miller. His presentation was entitled "Making Moo Moo and the Surprise Ending." Tim discussed his experience of making Moo Moo in a Tutu, his picture book debut as an author and illustrator. We had approximately eighty people that attended our program. Also, we had two raffle baskets, a Breakfast Basket and a Summer Reading Program Building Basket

Our Reading is Fundamental Outreach Program had another great year, and we will be looking for even more librarians to participate in 2018. Thank you to Rosemarie Birofka for all your hard work coordinating this for Children's Services. Not only do I appreciate all your hard work, but the kids and teachers we visit do too.

Reading Is Fundamental

Our final program for the year was our installation of officer's breakfast held on December 13, 2017, at the Roosevelt Public Library. This year, we were treated to a wonderful performance by the Storycrafters, and following their performance, they conducted a storytelling workshop for those in attendance.

RAISE MONEY FOR NCLA

TD Bank's Affinity Program makes contributions to non-profit organizations, such as NCLA, based on our members' accounts at TD Bank. They will make a contribution for every existing account and every new account.

All you have to do is tell the bank teller that you are part of NCLA and give them our Affinity Code: AH176. It costs nothing for NCLA members and benefits our organization.

TD Bank is depositing over $200 into the NCLA checking account as a result of our participation in their Affinity Program last year..

So, help us out and visit your local TD Bank branch and give them our Affinity Code AH176.

NCLA Treasurer

Finally, I would like to welcome the 2018 Executive Board:

Sarah Aiosa: President
Jaclyn Kunz: Vice President/
President Elect
Bianca Rivera, Treasurer
Jacqueline Lopez:
Corresponding Secretary
Stephanie Montesanto:
Recording Secretary
Michelle Minervini: Director
Maryanne Linehan: Director

The Children's Services Division wishes everyone a Happy New Year. Please remember to renew your membership and help make 2018 an amazing year for our division.
