

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As 2018 passes the midway point, NCLA continues to offer excellent programming and continuing education opportunities for its members.

The Long Island Library Conference was held on Thursday, May 3, 2018, at the Melville Marriott. I was fortunate to be able to attend the conference this year, which provided a variety of interesting and educational professional development workshops and panels.

The theme of this year's conference was "Together Towards Tomorrow," and the keynote speaker was Emily Esfahani Smith, journalist, author and presenter of the 2017 TED Talk "There's More to Life Than Being Happy" and author of the book, The Power of Meaning: Finding Fulfillment in a World Obsessed with Happiness."

Thanks to the NCLA divisions and committees that organized programming for the Long Island Library Conference and organized tables and raffles in the exhibitor area to help promote NCLA and fundraise for the Association.

Thanks also to Vice President Valerie Acklin for organizing the NCLA table this year, including the raffles and giveaways.

Lastly, thanks especially to the Long Island Library Conference Committee for their hard work all year in planning and implementing such a successful and worthwhile conference. The committee's time, effort, and commitment toward ensuring another excellent conference experience is greatly appreciated.

The Long Island Library Conference also hosted the award presentations for both the LDA Award and the B.E.S.T. Award. The LDA Award provides recognition to an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to libraries on Long Island while the B.E.S.T. Award honors significant contributions by a teenager to library services. This year's winner of the LDA Award was Merrick Library Director Ellen Firer, and the winner of the B.E.S.T. Award was John (Jack) Miller for his service at the Farmingdale Public Library. Thanks to both Ellen and Jack for their service and commitment to libraries on Long Island and congratulations to them and for their outstanding achievements.

CIVIL SERVICE NEWS

There has been an important update regarding Civil Service: Continuous recruitment of the Librarian I Exam has been suspended by the Nassau County Civil Service Commission. The last date that to file for the Librarian I Exam for the foreseeable future was August 31 of this year.

As most of you know, the Librarian II Exam already ended in Fall 2017. The Librarian I and II Exam Unit at Nassau County Civil Service closed, due to staff retirements. Therefore, Librarian I and II Exams will now fall under the auspices of New York State Civil Service and its schedules and scoring rubrics.

I have attended a meeting of the MLD Executive Board; we are working together to communicate with Martha Krisel, the Executive Director of the Nassau County Civil Service Department. We are expressing our concerns regarding the changes to the Librarian I Exam and the timing of the announcement. The MLD-NCLA Joint Civil Service Committee is also currently researching what this transition to NY State Civil Service will mean for librarians and to provide further information and clarification, as they are able to confirm it, to NCLA membership.

I have set a date for a Civil Service Town Hall meeting for NCLA members. The purpose of this meeting will be for members to discuss their concerns regarding Civil Service. The Town Hall will take place Tuesday, October 2, 2018, 6-8 PM, at the Garden City Public Library. The NCLA Executive Board will also be holding its next board meeting on September 14, 2018, at 9:30 AM at Nassau Library System. All NCLA members are welcome to attend either or both meetings.

FALL PROGRAMMING

NCLA divisions have several upcoming programs scheduled that NCLA members are encouraged to attend. The Support Staff Division will be holding its annual bus trip on Friday, September 28, 2018, at 10 AM. The bus trip this year will be to Palmer Vineyards and will include transportation, lunch, wine tasting and tour, gratuity, raffles, and a 50/50 raffle.

The Reference and Adult Services Division's Annual Author Breakfast will be held on Tuesday, October 23, 2018, at 9:30 AM at The Merrick Library and will feature Beatriz Williams, bestselling author of The Summer Wives. These are all sure to be exciting and informative programs and members are encouraged to register.

NCLA committees also have plenty of exciting programs scheduled for the second half of this year. The Mentoring Committee will be hosting the program "Verbal Judo" featuring Don Longo at 10 AM on Monday, September 24, 2018, at the Oceanside Library. The Pop Culture Committee will be hosting a bus trip on Sunday, November 4, 2018, at 9 AM to visit the Harry Potter exhibit at the New York Historical Society in Manhattan, which will be open to NCLA members and their families.

The Retiree Committee will be hosting a Luncheon and Bookshare on Wednesday, September 26, 2018, at 12 PM at Domenico's of Levittown. Finally, NCLA members should also save the date for the NCLA Annual Dinner, which is Thursday, November 29, 2018, at the Coral House.

NCLA members are encouraged to take advantage of these professional development opportunities and register for these programs.

NCLA BOARD MEETINGS

NCLA members are still encouraged to attend the monthly NCLA Executive Board Meetings held at NLS. As mentioned, the next NCLA Executive Board Meeting will be held on September 14, 2018. Additional meeting dates this year include October 12, November 2, and December 14. All NCLA members are welcome to attend these meetings.

Also, please consider getting involved by attending a division or committee meeting and see how you can help to provide quality professional development and educational opportunities for librarians and library staff. Your active participation on a division or committee can benefit you, your fellow NCLA members, and the library community.

For members who have questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me. You can reach me via email at laurag@gardencitypl.org via email or by phone at 516-742-8405 x242.

It's been a very productive year for NCLA especially for the Support Staff Division!

In January, we sponsored a Notary Public Refresher Workshop at the East Meadow Public Library with 40 people in attendance. In response to this workshop, we organized another workshop on How to Become a Notary Public. This took place in April at the Nassau Library System and approximately 20 people attended.

On March 16, 2018, we sponsored our Annual Open House at the East Meadow Public Library where 75 people met with their colleagues from across Nassau County. They enjoyed a sumptuous buffet catered by Borrelli's, enjoyed an interactive Murder Mystery program and toured the East Meadow Public Library.

Then the Nassau County Civil Service Commission announced a test for Senior Library Clerk to be given on May 12, 2018. We decided to quickly put together a workshop entitled, Senior Library Clerk Study Tips and Hints. The workshop was presented by Mamie Eng, Director of the Henry Waldinger Public Library. Sixty-two people attended this informative workshop at the East Meadow Public Library.

Workshop on "Senior Library Clerk Study Tips and Hints" held at the East Meadow Public Library on April 30, 2018.

Carol Santillo, a member of the Support Staff's Executive Board was instrumental in setting up online registration for us through Google. We hope to use this method of registration in the future to save time and some trees!

In May, we sponsored a program at the Long Island Library Conference entitled, Recognizing, Responding to and Preventing Workplace Harassment presented by lawyer, Jessica Moller of the Garden City firm, Bond, Schoeneck and King. 76 people attended.

Ms. Moller was informative and engaging, and we received some requests from different libraries for Ms. Moller to present this program for staff who were not at the Long Island Library Conference.

We met many people at our Association table where we recruited new members, had a fun giveaway and two raffle baskets ... a His and Hers Summer Basket and a Technology Basket. We raised $852 for NCLA!

Our next workshop was Microsoft Tips and Tricks, held on June 6, 2018, at the Uniondale Public Library.

We hope you had a nice summer, and we attend the Support Staff Division's Annual Bus Trip planned for September 28, 2018, to the Palmer Vineyards. Flyer is included in this newsletter.

PRESENTATION OF THE 2018 LDA AWARD

Presentation of the 2018 LDA Award
for
Excellence in Library Achievement
at the
43rd Annual Long Island
Library Conference

Prof. Arthur L. Friedman,
Ed.D., MLS, MS
Presenter

For 25 years, it has been my honor to do the presentation of the LDA Award to a deserving member of the Long Island Library community. To begin this year's event, I offer, on behalf of LDA Publishers and the Nassau and Suffolk County Library Associations, a thank you to the members of this year's bi-county award committee for their work in soliciting nominations and selecting a nominee. The committee was co-chaired by Marcia Olsen, retired of the Levittown Public Library and Paula Bornstein of the Lindenhurst Memorial Library.

In 1977, Mr. Andrew Ippolito, a past-president of NCLA, former Director of the Merrick and Lindenhurst libraries, founder of LDA Publishers, and Director of the Newsday Library, created the LDA Award for Excellence in Library Achievement to call attention to the importance of libraries and those who provide a special value to the libraries of Long Island. The award criteria are published in the Directory of Long Island Libraries and Media Centers. I have been asked to limit my remarks as I highlight some of the accomplishments that are part of our honoree's years of distinguished service in the advancement of libraries and librarianship.

As I read through the nominating materials, the thoughts that struck me in describing this individual were: innovator, mentor, advocate and transformer. This honoree also represents what I call the 4 "Cs" of librarianship - collaboration, cooperation, communication, and community.

The 21st Century has produced almost daily changes in our use of technology and the world of librarianship is no exception to this principle. While it is 30 years since the PC started to appear in public and academic libraries and changed how we create documents and access information, keeping track of library resources has been slower in that evolution. However, invention and development of RFID technology came with a new set of challenges and opportunities. Touchless checkout and locating resources, inventory control by scanning the stacks, and privacy issues were concepts to consider. Today's honoree accepted this technology into the library as a pioneer for Nassau County and after learning the pitfalls and potentials, helped guide others in its adoption as well.

Although authors have always used libraries as a rich mine to gather ideas for their texts, and craftsmen found plans for items to construct in books and periodicals, the thought of creating a laboratory for building materials in the library is a very new concept. Turning underused storage space into a Makerspace, and providing digital and analog equipment for inventors to experiment with made 3D printers, Cricuts, Ozobots, doodlers, and even sewing machines a regular item to use in their creative adventures.

The need for library advocacy is a frequent topic at library gatherings. We recently witnessed the value of this in the passage of the NY State budget with many millions of new dollars for library construction projects and even modest increases in operating support. You can count on our honoree to be a strong participant in Library Advocacy Day and the arduous bus trip to Albany each year, however, you can also find this individual advocating at Chamber of Commerce meetings where talking to other powerful community leaders can result in added support for these efforts. The strength of our honoree's work has been recognized by the community by being named Professional of the Year and serving as an elected leader of the Chamber of Commerce for 10 years!

The "C's" of collaboration, community and communication were necessary components of this individual's work as community coalitions were built, and broad support for the Library's work was achieved.

We are always ready to recognize an individual when she succeeds in her role as innovator and leader, we must celebrate that individual when she creates mechanisms for her skills to be learned by others. This year we honor a library leader who is firmly recognized as a mentor as well. Through her sponsorship of students in Binghamton University's Career Externship program she may be developing the library leaders of the future. In addition, other directors call upon her for her input and guidance in new and challenging situations.

Nominators of this candidate have also stressed that she is someone who does not just manage a library, she works to transform it to meet the changing needs of her community as well.

I believe that the nominators have given us a candidate who is very much deserving of being the winner of this year's LDA Award. It was clear from reading the letters of support that this year's library leader has converted many others into willing followers of her leadership. In fact, at least one of her children has followed her into our profession and has won accolades as well!

It is clear that this individual is a colleague who shares a vision of library service for today and into the future.

Please join me in congratulating the 2018 LDA Award recipient, an outstanding librarian and library leader. The Director of the Merrick Library

Mrs. Ellen Firer

LDA Award Winner Ellen Firer (second from the right) with staff members from The Merrick Library.

Thank You Speech for LDA Award - Ellen Firer

I want to start with thank yous. I have to thank the many people who are the reason for this award.

First of all, I have to thank my husband, Joe. We have been married for 43 years, and we have a partnership that is as solid as the day we married, and love that has grown over the years.

I know people say they love their grandchildren more than their own children, but I can't say that. I have four amazing sons: Eric, Mike, Josh and Ben; they are all unique and fill my heart daily. My three daughters in law, Julia, Rebecca, and Hyewon, have added so much to my family. And of course, last but not least, my five fantastic grandchildren: David, Alexis, Cameron, Scarlett and Preston.

Now to the many colleagues that have helped me get where I am today.

First of all, I want to thank Jackie Thresher for her incredible leadership and support of all Nassau libraries, but personally, the respect she shows to all of the Directors. She has been a great resource. Nassau is lucky to have her!

My PLA travel partner and friend, Trina Reed, as well as Debbie Podolski my ideas partner, Elizabeth Olesh, Nancy Curtin and so many I just can't name everyone. Fifteen years ago, we started a New Directors' Group that transformed our Directors' meetings to become less stuffy and formal and to include an information exchange, a valuable resource for all of us.

A dedicated Board - that has been innovative and supportive and great partners. Donna Rosenblum, the current President of the Board, Laura Cody, Meme Wanderman, Femy Aziz, and Maureen Garvey, my colleague and friend. With their commitment to intellectual freedom, customer service and community, with no personal agendas, we have been able to become the library we are today.

To the best staff at any library today: after a core values exercise, these three were at the top: Teamwork, innovation and service. That describes them to a T - Again, I wish I had the time to thank each and every one individually. Each staff member feels like family to me, and I love them from the bottom of my heart. After 15 years, I have the A team! To my Assistant Director, Marisa Crowley, you have made my job easier in every way.

Reading has always been my passion and sparked my interest in libraries. But this quote says it all: "The time of the quiet library with the all-knowing librarian is over. Public libraries have, during the past ten years, been changing from collections to connections and now also towards creativity and collaboration."

Where do we go from here? It is up us to craft our future, so others don't do it for us. We have to stay open to ideas, open to innovation, while maintaining our mission.

We have to break through the walls of departmental divisions, siloed services, and work as holistic organizations, moving from good to great. We can't point fingers and accuse others of hindering our progress: We can do this, we have this.

Technology is important, and we have seen so many changes. But technology cannot be adopted just for technology's sake - it is to supplement our services, offer unique opportunities to expose our communities to the possibilities they never imagined. The first to offer 3D printing, we knew that it would be something that would impact every industry, including engineering and design, as well as medical, dental and more. People looked at me funny, but they don't anymore, or maybe they still do!

The new generation of librarians has to be taught that soft skills, interpersonal relations, are at the core of our success. We have to be open to spending time with our communities, offering them our ear and our assistance to solving problems that impact all of us. Then, and only then, can we be guaranteed that we will continue to thrive.

In this world of misinformation, librarians are needed more than ever to vet sources, teach information and digital literacy so we can have an educated public. We are the most democratic of institutions, which as a child of the 60's, with my braids, overalls and protest signs, is the most meaningful part of our existence.

Thank you so much for this honor. I cannot express how much this means to me - I have met so many wonderful people in this journey; I have loved mentoring and encouraging staff to be all that they can be, and hope that I have made a difference and will continue to work towards that end.

Ellen Firer

IN MEMORIAM

The Nassau library community lost several members this spring:

DINAH LINDAUER passed away on April 15, 2018. Dinah was Assistant Director of the Nassau Library System during the time when Andrew Geddes was building the organization as its director. During her tenure in the libraries of Nassau County, she was also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Merrick Library, Chairwoman of the New York State delegation to the first White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services held in 1979, a member of the Governor's Commission on Libraries, and a past-president of the New York Library Association during the time when NYLA was located in New York City. In 1980, she was chosen as a recipient of the LDA Award for Excellence in Library Achievement. Dinah was a strong advocate for the Right to Read and her family requested that donations in her memory be made to the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom.

In May 2018, ANGELICA (ANGIE) SCHENKER passed away after a battle with bile duct cancer. She had been a member of the Baldwin Public Library's team since 1999, most recently as the Head of Adult Programming. She was a vibrant, positive person who will be greatly missed. Apologies from the Editor

Due to a very hectic summer, grant proposals, staff turnover, summer reading activities, committee meetings, etc., I fell behind in publishing the NCLA Newsletter for June and then the Summer.

This issue is a combined issue covering NCLA activities from the spring, the Long Island Library Conference, and upcoming fall programs.

People in the News

In April 2018, New York State Senator Elaine Phillips honored an outstanding staff member from each of the public libraries in the 7th Senatorial District, which she represents. The honorees were nominated by their library directors, and they each received a formal New York State Proclamation for their exceptional service.

The honorees were Vivian Gong, of the Mineola Memorial Library; Deepa Chandra, of the Bryant Library; Edna Harpaul, of the Westbury Public Library; Muriel Alt, of the East Williston Public Library; Edward Escoffier, of the Hicksville Public Library; and Kathy Kane, of the Williston Park Public Library. Jonathan Aubrey, of the Great Neck Public Library, was honored posthumously, and his brother, David, accepted the Proclamation on his behalf.

Congratulations!!!

At the Romance Writers of America Conference this year, Fran Strober Cassano, Genre Fiction Librarian at the North Bellmore Public Library, was named as the recipient of the 2018 Romance Writers of America's Cathie Linz Librarian of the Year Award. This honor is awarded to a librarian who demonstrates outstanding support of romance authors and the romance genre.

Fran has been an adult reference librarian at the North Bellmore Public Library for 11 years. She is also an advocate of libraries and for genre collection development on both the local and state levels. She was presented her award at the 2018 Romance Writers of America Annual Conference in Denver, Colorado, in July, from RWA President and author Dee Davis.

Tim Spindler has been appointed as the new executive director of the Long Island Library Resources Councils (LILRC). He has diverse background having worked in archives, museums, academic libraries, and a large consortium of public libraries. He would like to see LILRC build on its strengths to develop a nimble and agile organization adapting to the needs of the libraries in Nassau and Suffolk County, and he will be reviewing all its services and start a strategic planning process involving libraries and staff at LILRC. If you have any thoughts about what LILRC should be doing or just to talk about what your library is doing, call Tim at (631) 675-1570 x201 or email him at tspindler@lilrc.org.

On Wednesday, June 13, 2018, the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library held a celebration dinner to honor Joseph Eisner upon his retirement from the Library Board. Throughout his career, Joe made significant contributions to the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library. He served as Director of the Plainedge Public Library and has advised the Nassau Library System and library trustees throughout New York State about library legislative matters. He was instrumental in setting up contracts for library service in many of the unserved areas in Nassau County. His dedication and service to the library community was praised by current Plainview director Gretchen Browne, current and past Plainview library trustees, current and past Nassau library directors, and other colleagues across the state.

Immediate NCLA Past President Nancy Evans, Head of the Young Adult Department at the Levittown Public Library, had a busy summer professionally! She presented a webinar for Niche Academy and was a panelist for SLJTeen Live!, presenting "Amplifying Teen Voices" with Syntychia Kendrick-Samuel, Head of Young Adult at the Uniondale Public Library. Nancy was interviewed by "Teen Librarian Toolbox" by Farmingdale Youth Services Librarian Natalie Korsavidis and appeared on "The Library Pros" podcast. Her book, Cultivating Strong Girls: Library Programming That Builds Self-Esteem and Challenges Inequality, received two starred reviews, from Booklist and School Library Journal.

News from the Reference & Adult Services Division

Board Members of the Reference & Adult Services Division at the Long Island Library Conference.

RASD had a fantastic time at the Long Island Library Conference on May 3, 2018. We are especially proud of our raffle basket. Jam-packed with summer fun, it had two Tommy Bahama beach chairs, two beach towels, two margarita glasses, tequila and margarita mix. Our winner Jan Heinlein of Nassau Library System is all set for a Jimmy Buffet concert at Jones Beach.

RASD in conjunction with Suffolk County RASD, Directors Ellen Firer (Merrick) and Trina Reed (Levittown) and Assistant Director of NLS, Caroline Ashby presented the findings of the months-long Future of Reference Survey at the Long Island Library Conference. The survey showed that we need to rethink our service model to remain essential in the future. Check out the conference website under the programs tab to get ideas and read the survey questions.

Back by popular demand, Carol Fitzgerald of the BookReporter held "A Reader's Advisory Program" on June 20, 2018, at The Merrick Library. She spoke about the hottest spring titles and gave a preview of what to look for in the fall.

I hope everyone has enjoyed their summer, but I am looking forward to the cooler weather and the fun programs RASD has planned for the rest of the year.

Our annual Author Breakfast is on October 23, 2018, at The Merrick Library with New York Times bestselling author of historical fiction Beatriz Williams.

Her newest book Summer Wives came out on July 10th to critical acclaim. It should be a morning of engaging conversations and great food!

Save The Date!

Our last event of the year will be a repeat of last year's insightful, informative and entertaining Un-Conference with Nicole Scherer of NLS on December 10, 2018.
