To begin, the following is an update regarding Civil Service:

On October 2, 2018, NCLA held a Civil Service Town Hall Meeting at the Garden City Public Library. At the meeting, NCLA provided to members the information so far ascertained by the MLD-NCLA Joint Civil Service Committee, via a PowerPoint; the PowerPoint has been converted to a PDF for members to view on the NCLA website (https://ncla.info/wp/content/uploads/2018/10/NCLA-Civil-Service-PowerPoint-from-October-2-2018-Meeting.pdf).

Some of the questions raised by members during the Q&A portion that NCLA and the MLD-NCLA Joint Civil Service Committee will pursue are as follows:

- What will the make-up of the Nassau County exam be? Will it be a training and experience exam? Will it be multiple choice?
- We clearly need more information about how these changes impact Librarian Trainees. Can Civil Service detail the career path for these new professionals? Will they experience a gap of time between when they graduate (and can no longer be employed as a Trainee) and when they can take a Librarian I exam? Will being unemployed for periods as long as a year or two a possible reality?

At this time, NCLA does not have answers to the above questions and others that were raised, but the MLD-NCLA Joint Civil Service Committee will continue to gather information and, as they are able to confirm accurate answers with Civil Service, share them with NCLA membership. NCLA will also investigate ways to better communicate this information to NCLA membership, particularly to Long Island library schools and library students.

I want to thank NCLA membership for their patience and understanding regarding this issue. I also want to thank Ken Bellafiore, MaryAnn Tweedy, James Hutter, Trina Reed, and Valerie Acklin who attended the NCLA Civil Service Town Hall meeting on Tuesday, October 2, 2018, and helped to answer questions from NCLA members to the best of their abilities. Lastly, thanks very much to the members of MLD and the NCLA executive boards as well as to the MLD-NCLA Joint Civil Service Committee for their continuous efforts and hard work into doing what they can to learn more about these sudden and recent changes to Civil Service and to provide accurate information to NCLA membership.

While the MLD-NCLA Joint Civil Service continues to work diligently, other NCLA divisions and committees have also been working hard to provide NCLA membership with excellent programming and continuing education opportunities.

Media Services Division Update

On September 25, 2018, the Media Services Division held a program at the Criterion Collection in Manhattan. The staff gave a tour of their facility, and we learned how they restore films. Media librarians were able to meet a great deal of the staff and ask questions.

A Media Services Division Board meeting will be held at the Nassau Library System on Tuesday, November 6, 2018. We will discuss some ideas for programs for the next fiscal year, as well as a possible program for next year’s Long Island Library Conference.

On Tuesday, December 4, 2018, the Division will be having a program at the Nassau Library System with a visit from Playaway. Donna DeStefano and Aaron Rinehart from Playaway will be discussing various Playaway’s products and services, and they will be also sponsoring a luncheon from Panera Bread.

The proposed slate for 2019 Media Services Division officers is:

President - Camille DiPietro
(Long Beach Public Library)

Vice-President - Natasha Drax
(Long Beach Public Library)

Tim Spindler, LILRC Executive Director, spoke about LILRC’s role with libraries. Eleven legislators attended and had an opportunity to speak. Approximately 120 library supporters attended the event.

The LILRC Committee for the Preservation of Local History is presenting “Social Media Engagement for Cultural Institutions,” on Friday, November 2, 2018, at the Sachem Public Library in Holbrook.
