

NCLA /HEALTH SERVICES COMMITTEE PRESENTS:

Writer At Large: Stories from the Front Lines of Freelancing

Presenter: John Hanc

Associate Professor, Communication Arts, New York Institute of Technology
Faculty Advisor, The Campus Slate; Faculty Advisor, The Carleton Group (Agency Workshop)
Guest faculty: Harvard Medical School annual "Writing, Publishing and Social Media" conference

John Hanc is the author/co-author of 17 books, contributing writer to Newsday, The New York Times, Smithsonian.com, Runner's World and more. He is currently working on two medical memoirs. Please join us as he discusses where he gets his inspiration from, how he develops his ideas and talks about some of the books and articles he has collaborated on.

When? Thursday, March 14, 2019 from 10am – Noon

Where? – Bryant Library, Roslyn, NY

<https://bryantlibrary.org/about-bryant-library/directions-hours>

Registration: Member: $5.00

Non-Member: $20.00

Name:

Library:

Email:

Phone:

Send to: Jeanne Strausman, NYIT/COM Library, Rockefeller Building, Northern Blvd,
Old Westbury, NY 11568. Contact at: jstrausm@nyit.edu

Make check payable to: NCLA

Registration will close on Friday, March 8.

There is .20 CEU for the class. Do you want a CEU certificate: Yes

No