

2019 Spring Meeting

The Evidence About Vaccination:

Information & Knowledge for the Librarian

Date/Time: Wednesday, June 5, 2019 from 9:30am to 12:00pm

Location: Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell, Hempstead, N.Y.

Speaker: Dr. Janice T. John, DO, MS, MPH

Interested in learning more about the evidence concerning vaccinations and how to assist your library users who are looking for reliable information on this topic? This is the presentation for you! Topics to be covered include:

- An overview of the spectrum of vaccines in both pediatric and adult medicine
- An evidence-based discussion of the validity of vaccine safety
- Valid and reliable resources for clinicians and for the public
- A short business meeting will follow.

Speaker: Dr. Janice T. John is a pediatrician and an Assistant Professor of Medical Education and Pediatrics at the Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell. Dr. John co-directs clinical skills, teaches communication and physical diagnosis and serves as a facilitator for PEARLS (Patient-Centered Explorations in Active Reasoning, Learning, and Synthesis). Prior to joining the Zucker faculty, she was a Clinical Assistant Professor and the director of the Keeping Families Healthy program at Stony Brook. Dr. John's research and publications focus on patient safety and public health interventions that support families.
